CHARLES-TOWN, June 2.

The Account of what happened at the Congrees, the Place appointed by the Governor for an Interview with the CATAWBA Indians, concluded.

The CATAWBA's Answer to his Excellency's Speech inserted in our last.

Yaubo Yaleygwey directed himself to the Governor, and said,

I And my People will stand by Carolina, but the Cherokee's have not done well by us. It was not long after our Departure from Charles Town before they kill'd one of my People, which makes me think they did not enough regard your Excellency's Talk.

It is impossible that the Cherokee's and us should continue in Friendship, for they not only harbour and assist the Northern Indians, which are our Enemies, but the Creeeus's are fitted out by them, they are furnished with Flour and other Necessaries, and thereby enabled to make War with us.

I have heard that the Cherokee's are desirous to make Peace with the French, and are sorry for it: But, let what will happen, We will join ourselves with no Nation without your Excellency's Permission.

Capt. Taylor then interpreted more fully what the King had said.

I Love King George and the English, for it is from them we have Cloathing, Arms and Ammunition. Let other Nations make Peace with the French, we will ever stand by the English. The Man next me is old (meaning the old Leader) but I am young, and as the English are my Friends I will be Theirs.

The Chickesaw's have lately made War with us, and have taken Captive some of our Children: I sent to the Squirrel King, and desired that they might be deliver'd up, but he has refused to send them back, and wants to keep them as Slaves. What can I do in this Case? They began the Quarrel and shot my People first. But notwithstanding that, if they will again return to us our Children, I will see the Squirrel King, and renew a Peace with him.

About 15 Days before the Mischief was done in these Parts by the Chickesaws, 25 Indians under the Command of one French Jemmy, met with one of my People about 8 Miles from hence, and they slew him, and took off his Scull * both Skin and Hair.

Last Summer, when I and some of the Headmen of the Cherokee's went to Charles Town, and had heard your Excellency's Talk, and had received from you Presents of fine Cloaths and other Things, and were returning home, these Cherokee's kill'd one of my People by the Quarter house; and, in order to make the Breach between us still wider, they are now supplying our Enemies with Provisions and Necessaries to hurt us, of which I desire your Excellency will speak to them.

Several French Indians came to us some Time ago, and told us that they wanted to make Peace, but I told them it was not in my Power to do that of myself.

The old Captain is almost tired and cannot go further, otherwise we should be glad to accompany your Excellency. Besides we have received Intelligence from the Governor of Virginia that 600 Northern Indians are coming this Way, that they have frighted the People of the Out settlements, and killed many of their Cattle and Hogs; we therefore intend to go back, and lay in Wait for them as they pass the Head of Santee River.

Your Excellency is going one Way, and we are going another. We hope that in your Way there is no Danger: But we may meet our Enemies, and therefore must go to take Care of our Women and Children.

We desire your Excellency will give us a Drum, and likewise a Flag, that we may be able to shew to the Virginians and other white People that come amongst us as a Token of our Friendship to the English.

Let the Emperor of the Cherokee's know, that he and I are Brothers, that I look upon him as my Friend, and will hold him fast, but not because he is a Friend to the French. Let him know, that I am sorry to hear that he and the French have joined together.

I am now done, and want to shake Hand with your Excellency and your Warriors.

After this the King and Headmen of Catawba's dined with his Excellency. After Dinner several Healths were drunk, and the Guns were fired after each Health; and sometime thereafter they entertain'd his Excellency with a War Dance.

Next Morning his Excellency set out for Winsty fir.

[An Account of what pass'd there between him and the Cherokee's shall be in our next.]

* This they account the greatest Indignity that can be offered them.

BOSTON, May 15.

By Capt McCrea, in seven Weeks from Glasgow, we have the following Advices, viz.

DRESDEN, Feb. 21.

TWelve Thousand Men designed for the Maritime Powers, are in Readiness to march; but it has been intimated to the Court of London, that there is a Necessity for 45,000 Pounds Sterling to put them in Motion. To which Demand an Answer is expected before they march.

Antwerp, March 1. We are assur'd here, that the King of Great Britain will grant to the Empress Queen, a Subsidy of 400,000 l. Sterling, and that his Britannick Majesty will pay his Part towards the 50,000 l. which the King of Poland demands to enable him to cause the 12,000 Saxons to march.

Vienna, March 2. On the 28th of last Month an Express arrived from Italy, with Advice of a considerable Action in that Country, but as yet we know not the Particulars. Baron d'Aylva, the Dutch Minister, is gone to Wetzburg, Munich, and Ulm, in order to take a Body of 10 or 11,000 old Troops into the Pay of the Republick. The Persians are forming vast Magazines on the Frontiers of Moravia, which occasions much Speculation.

Hague, March 6. According to Letters from Berlin, it is no longer a Secret there, that his Prussian Majesty has propos'd a Plan for a general Peace, and that he is preparing an Army of 100,000 Men, to give the necessary Degree of Weight to his Mediation.

The Turks, having taken Umbrage of the Armament made by the Court of Petersburgh, have determin'd to form an Army of 40,000 Men in Moldavia, and have actually erected Magazines for the Use of their Troops.

Paris, March 14. Two Officers lately arrived here from Scotland, dispatch'd by the young Pretender; they have set forth all Things in so favourable a Light, that we begin to talk with more Certainty than ever, of the speedy Departure of a Squadron from Brest, which, 'tis said, will be joined by some other Men of War, and all the Privateers in this Kingdom that may be willing to assist in this Expedition.

Vienna, March 9. The last Conference in Relation to the Affairs hairs of the Low Countries was held Yeſterday, and it is now a Point ſettled, that the Allies will take the Field by the middle of next Month, with an Army of 110,000 Men at leaſt.

Utrecht, March 12. If the Report which gains great Credit here be true, we are likely to ſee a Turn of Affairs which will ſurprize all the World. It is affirm'd as a Thing certain, that a Treaty is finiſh'd between the Courts of Vienna, Pruſſia, and the Maritime Powers; in Conſequence whereof, 40,000 Pruſſians are in full March for Flanders, and 6000 towards Stade and Bremen. The laſt are to be embark'd on board the Britiſh Tranſports which carry over the Dutch Troops to Holland; and the firſt are to march directly to Brabant, in Conſequence of the above Treaty, whereby all the Auſtrian Low Countries are ceded to the King of Pruſſia; who, on his being poſſeſs'd of them, is to deliver up all Silheſia, with Glatz, &c. to the Empreſs Queen. By this Means, a ſtrong Barrier will be form'd againſt France, and the Balance of Power in the Way of taking quite a new Turn. What may be the Event, human Foreſight is at preſent incapable of diſcerning; but the Caſe will probably be, That from the Day the King of Pruſſia becomes poſſeſs'd of Flanders, the aſſuming Power of France will be heard of no more.

Paris, March 14. By Letters from Madrid of the 28th of laſt Month, we have received Advice, that the Ferrol Squadron, commanded by M. Alvarez, ſet ſail from that Port the 10th. We expect the next Poſt from Spain will tell us what Courſe that Squadron has ſteer'd.

Bruſſels, March 17. The Hotel d'Egmont, (the Palace) in this Town, is fitting up for the Reception of the French King.

Liege, March 18. The Prince de Waldeck ſtill maintains his Poſt behind the Dyle without the leaſt Moleſtation, and receives daily Reinforcements to his Army. Mons and Charleroy are very cloſely environed by the French.

Paris, March 18. M. de Firmacon, who has ſafely landed in Scotland ſome Troops, carries to Prince Edward, the Patent of Generaliſſimo of all the French and Spaniſh Troops already landed and to be landed in that Kingdom.

A conſiderable Armament has been long preparing at Breſt, and we are aſſured that the Squadron is actually equipp'd, and ready to put to Sea, under the Command of the Duke De Anville. Some Men of War are ſail'd upon a Cruize to clear the Coaſt. There are in that Port 50 ſmall Tranſports, and ſeveral fiſhing Veſſels, to carry the Neceſſaries for the Embarkation. A certain great Man is ſet out from Verſailles, and, 'tis currently reported, is gone to Breſt, which Route the Chevalier Stuart has alſo taken.

Amſterdam, March 23. We hear that the Embargo which has been laid on the Shipping in the Ports of Calais, Dunkirk, &c. is not yet taken off, but that Embarkations are daily making from divers Places on that Coaſt. We have Letters from Bruges which aſſure that the Breſt Fleet is now at Sea.

London, March 31. We are told from Hamburgh, that ſeveral Thouſand Pruſſian Troops are filing off towards Konigſberg, and that the King of Pruſſia is reſolved to have an Army of 50,000 Men there in the Spring.

His Catholick Majeſty has ordered the Tenth Man of all the Eccleſiaſticks, Regular and Secular, in his Dominions, to take up Arms, in order to ſend them to Scotland for the Service of the Pretender.

It is now ſaid, that a truly Britiſh Reſolution, not to be too officious out of our own Element, has been at laſt taken.

We hear, that a Townſman and a Countryman having met together in the Street the other Day, the Townſman aſk'd the Countryman, what News? Upon which the honeſt Countryman naturally anſwered, 'I hear nought, but that WILLIE 'of Cumberland, is purſuing CHARLIE of Plunderland.'

CHARLES-TOWN, June 9.

On Tueſday laſt departed this Life, Mrs. Pringle, the Wife of Mr. Robert Pringle, and Mrs Eveleigh, the Wife of Samuel Eveleigh, Eſq; two Ladies of the moſt diſtinguiſhable Qualities, and unaffected Goodneſs, they were univerſally eſteemed, and now lamented by all who had the Pleaſure of their Acquaintance.

The ſame Day his Majeſty's Ship the Tartar, returned into this Port from her Cruize.

By Capt Colcock from Jamaica, we learn, that a large Fleet of Merchant Ships from France, bound to the Cape, was ſafely arrived at St. Domingo, but one Day before the Squadron of Men of War from Jamaica, accompanied by a great Number of Privateers, appear'd off that Port.

We alſo learn, that French and Spaniſh Privateers are daily brought into Jamaica by the Men of War.

A few Days ago tail'd (as Flags of Truce) for the Havanna, the two Sloops Indoſtry and Cadogan, Captains Doughty and McNaire, having ſome Spaniſh Priſoners on board. At the ſame Time ſail'd, on her Return home, the Flag of Truce that lately arrived here from St Auguſtine, commanded by Monſ Dominge De La Croix, alſo having ſome Spaniſh Priſoners.

On Thurſday arriv'd from Cape Fear, ſome Recruits for our Independant Companies, and an Officer whoſe Name we have not yet learnt.

The Britiſh Regiments that were ordered from Gibraltar for the better Security and Defence of the Iſland of Cape Breton, and put into Virginia in the Fall, are ſafe arrived at Louiſbourg. And, we hear, that Admiral Warren has ſent a 40 Gun Ship (that is a prime Sailer) to cruize and wait for the famous Don Pedro Antecbia off the Capes of Virginia.

Admiral Townſhend was not arrived at Cape Breton the 9th of May.
